Leaves Paris For Country Home

Speculation Touched Off DeGaulle Plans To Quit

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle quit Paris secretly Wednesday for a visit to his country home, setting off published speculation that he planned to resign as chief of state of this strike-crippled nation.

Workers and students shouted for De Gaulle's resignation and the ouster of Premier Georges Pompidou in a massive march from the Place de la Bastille to the Place de la Republique, an antigovernment demonstration that police estimated drew 100,000 persons. The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor organized it.

Want Early Elections

Cries went up for early national elections to solve the crisis, set off by student rioters, that has paralyzed French industry and transport and left up to 10 million workers on strike.

The 77-year-old chief of state arrived at his country home at Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises by helicopter about eight hours after aides announced he had left the Elysee Palace in Paris to spend the night there. Mrs. De Gaulle accompanied him.

The distance is about 150 miles. The elapsed time of about eight hours raised talk that he must have stopped en route for consultation with someone about the deepening unrest. Where this might have been was undetermined.

One of De Gaulle's own followers, Deputy Xavier Deniau, said the revolutionary situation in France can only be solved now by the French people, speaking either in a presidential or a parliamentary election.

Navy Says Administrative Move

Crew Declared Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Wednesday night officially declared the crew of the nuclear submarine Scorpion as missing.

It described this action as an administrative move "in order to mitigate financial hardship which could affect some of the families of the 99 officers and men of the submarine, overdue since Monday."

Doesn't Change Status

"This action does not change the overdue status of the ship or involve any implication that the Scorpion will not be found, the statement said.

"The present intense sea-air and sub surface search will continue.

The Navy up to now has resisted using the word "missing" in any way in connection with the Scorpion.

Its announcement of the change in crew status from overdue to missing said that by so doing it is able to "provide for the dependents of the crew by making payments of monies from the pay of the missing men, and providing other benefits.

Atlantic Search Goes On

Meanwhile, more than 50 ships and 30 planes scoured the Atlantic in a search which has brought no reliable clue as to the fate of the $40 million sub.

The Navy said it was checking a lone seaman's report that he had sighted an unidentified orange object in the water.

Late in the day, the Navy said there had been no further sightings of the orange object and it directed no optimism that it might turn out to be a buoy signal released by the Scorpion.

Capt. John F. Davis told newsmen that a seaman aboard a Navy refrigerator ship reported early Tuesday seeing "an orange colored object" about 60 to 80 miles north of the position where there had been a previous report of an oil slick.

This was in the general area of the Scorpion's planned homeward track toward Norfolk, Va., but when Davis was asked whether the Navy was supposing that the orange object is a buoy, possibly sent up as a sign of distress from the Scorpion, Davis said "we aren't supposing one way or another."

The captain, who was monitoring at the Pentagon the three-day-old search for the Scorpion, said the refrigerator ship Hyades has been ordered to stay in the area and look further while other search vessels come up.

Davis said the crewman who reported seeing the orange object "was unable to get anyone else on the ship to see it also, and the search airplane, which at that time was overhead, was unable to pick it up either."

Oil Slick Seen May 23

The oil slick was reported to have been seen May 23 about 800 miles west of the last known position of the Scorpion two days earlier.

The orange object was reported seen five days after the oil slick and north of it. Davis said there was a light current to the north in that area.

However, the captain said that the first search airplanes to reach the position of the reported oil slick late Tuesday found no sign of it, nor of anything else.

Navy officers have tended to discount the importance of the slick, saying that these are common in the ocean where ships often discharge used oil.

Davis also appeared to discount a British amateur radio operator's report that he heard on Monday a ship-to-ship conversation which the ham said seemed to be a distress call from Scorpion.

No Actual Contact

"We haven't any information to indicate that was an actual contact with the Scorpion," Davis said.

"We have heard some monitoring was done of radio transmissions, but they do not correlate with what we know."

The Navy staff officer disclosed that officials had ruled out the significance of another orange, cylindrical object floating off Norfolk, where the Scorpion was due about 1 p.m. EDT Monday.

The search force was beefed up to more than 50 ships and 30 planes sweeping a 50-mile path along the Scorpion's intended track, which ran about 2,760 miles from its last known position south of the Azores to Norfolk.

More Jobs, Housing Are Among Bids

Group Also Calls For Dismissal Of Youth Center Head

Midlands Negro community, after a peaceful march on the borough building, Wednesday night presented several requests to borough officials.

They set a two-week ultimatum for "definite action."

Spearheaded by the Midland Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the group asked more employment, federal housing and the dismissal of Mrs. William Spisak as director of the Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center.

SOME 50 to 60, including white sympathizers, gathered at the Midland First Baptist Church and then walked to the borough building to outline the proposals to Mayor Eli G. Corak and members of Council.

The eight-block walk was conducted in an orderly fashion.

Mrs. Aaron Golding, president of the Midland NAACP, welcomed the delegation at the church. Will Leavell, owner of the Leavell Funeral Home, instructed the group and outlined the reason for the "walk."

Leavell said the NAACP has copies of letters dated back to 1964 presenting various requests to borough officials. He said no action has been taken.

"We want the employment of more Negroes in banks, the water works and the dismissal of Mrs. Spisak, Leavell said. He said they want Mrs. Spisak removed because of "her politeness, but didn't elaborate."

He said that federal housing has been requested, but the request has "been laying on the mayors desk."

"WE ARE tired of waiting on action. Now we are going to direct the action. We have had meaningless meetings before with Council and Mrs. Spisak. The officials will be given an ultimatum of two weeks, he added.

Leavell then commented that "further action would be taken, but didn't elaborate."

Those in the procession were instructed to "walk with dignity and pride. Walk in twos, and if there are any hecklers along the way, ignore them."

Charles James and Aaron Golding were appointed marshals to guard the street crossings along Midland Ave.

At City Hall, George McCloud, NAACP secretary, gave the opening remarks. Leavell then (Turn to MIDLAND, Page 7)

State Fears High Holiday Traffic Toll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio went into its long Memorial Day holiday weekend Wednesday evening with state safety officials fearful of a high traffic death toll, estimated by traffic statisticians at a possible 38 victims.

The Highway Safety Department said enforcement agencies at all levels will be on duty throughout the period — from 6 p.m. Wednesday through midnight Sunday.

While the actual holiday is on Thursday only, safety officials point out the entire weekend because many thousands of people add Friday to the holiday and travel during the entire period will be abnormally high.

Last year on the Memorial Day weekend (6 p.m. Friday through midnight Tuesday) 39 persons were killed in the period, and the toll for the last five Memorial weekends soared to 141 deaths and 6,477 injuries.

Stops Short Of Saying He'd Quit If Beaten

Kennedy, His Prestige Scarred, Pins Hopes On California Vote

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, his prestige scarred in his Oregon defeat by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, laid his deflated Democratic presidential nomination hopes on the line Wednesday in next week's California primary.

Kennedy stopped just short of saying in Los Angeles after a flight from Portland that he would quit the contest if he doesn't win in Tuesday's California balloting.

Will Abide By Results

"I will abide by the results of that test," he said. But he declined to say flatly that he would withdraw if McCarthy defeated him in a ballot box battle in which the politicians generally feel the odds favor the New York senator.

Kennedy agreed to debate McCarthy, a confrontation the Minnesota senator has been demanding for weeks. Always before Kennedy had said it would be necessary to include Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in such an affair.

Before he flew off for full time campaigning in California, McCarthy told reporters he does not think that his Oregon primary victory over Kennedy by a 45-39 percentage vote "necessarily eliminates the latter from the nomination contest. He called California "a tough state" but promised an all-out battle.

McCarthy Polls 45 Per Cent

With 2,442 of Oregon's 2,599 precincts counted, the results were McCarthy 147,801, or 45 per cent; Kennedy 128,223, or 39 per cent; President Johnson 40,934, or 12 per cent; and Humphrey (write-in) 10,267, or 3 per cent.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon won an overwhelming 73 per cent of the Republican vote. California Gov. Ronald Reagan, on the ballot, got 23 per cent; New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller 4 per cent on a write-in.

McCarthy, happy about the Oregon outcome, said the national polls "still show me to be the strongest candidate" when matched with Republican hopefuls. But he added that "now is no time to be counting delegates. There's a long, hot summer ahead."

Humphrey An Absentee

Although Kennedy said the California vote would be a fair test of the opposing views of Humphrey, McCarthy and himself, the Vice President again will be an absentee aspirant for the nomination.

Humphrey has disavowed attempts of a delegate slate which supported Johnson before he withdrew to switch its allegiance to him. Kennedy has tabbed Humphrey as his real rival for the nomination.

Asked at a Washington news conference if he felt Kennedy's first-ever defeat in Oregon eliminated the New Yorker as a threat to his own nomination, the Vice President retorted: "I never really felt it was a threat."

He declined, however, to say that he believed the nomination is "locked up" for him.

McCarthy said the Oregon results should dispose of suggestions that he might not go all of the way to the Chicago convention. He said they should quiet reports that he might throw his support to Humphrey in the end.

The Minnesota senator made it clear he intends to pursue his low-keyed campaigning, leaning heavily on television appearances to offset the crowd rousing tactics employed by Kennedy.

Kennedy is expected to bear down in California in his attacks on McCarthy. He virtually ignored his ballot opponent in Oregon, concentrating on Humphrey.

The near-disappearance of the once-potent Vietnam war issue marked the results in Oregon.

Poor Protest Ruling

Court Windows Smashed, 3 Demonstrators Held

WASHINGTON (AP) — War whoops and Indian chants sounded on the steps of the Supreme Court Wednesday and rocks smashed four windows as the Poor People's Campaign staged a protest against a court ruling.

Three demonstrators were arrested during one brief flare-up when some youths tried to lower the American flag in front of the building to half staff. Leaders of the campaign moved in quickly to calm the crowd.

"Brothers, we're gonna have many a day like this—ain't no need in getting excited," cried the Rev. Andrew Young, staff member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Peace Appeal Made

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the SCLC which is directing the Poor People's Campaign, said the rock throwers were not part of his following and he pleaded with the 300 demonstrators massed in front of the court to stay out of trouble.

"This is a nonviolent demonstration," he shouted. "For God's sake let there be no violence."

Deputy Police Chief J. V. Wilson said the three arrested were charged with interfering with police. He said Supreme Court security officers were trying to take into custody the youths who were tampering with the flag's halyards when the three intervened.

In the confusion those who pulled at the flag got away, Wilson said.

SCLC officials said the three persons arrested were Cheryl Robinson and her husband, Ray Robinson, of Chicago, and James Butch Washington, 15, of Cincinnati.

Windows Broken

The windows were broken on a side of the building away from the main demonstration by a half-dozen youths who then pushed their way in through an unlocked window shouting, "Viva Viva!"

They were quickly shoved back by security forces inside, leaving behind a button declaring in Spanish, "We will win." The police said one of the intruders was a young girl.

The march on the Supreme Court was led by a delegation of onstration and court officials produced an agreement that a delegation of 15 would be permitted to enter the building, but only to see the clerk.

Thursday, May 30, 1968 East Liverpool Review 3

In agreeing to this plan Indian leader Hank Adams failed to take into account the militancy of some of his elderly women followers, who sat down at the front door and refused to let the delegation go in.

The women were angry that their leaders had scaled down their demands, Adams said. Abernathy and the Mexican-American contingents withdrew to let the Indians try to settle the disagreement.

It took nearly two hours to convince the women they should let the delegation inside. During the long wait in the hot sun, Abernathy appeared to become groggy from the heat and was helped down the steps by his followers to get some water and take a rest in the shade.

The sun was a welcome stranger back at the Resurrection City encampment, however, where it began drying up the mud left by two days of rain.

An estimated 1,500 inhabitants—more than half—were reported to have left the camp for temporary quarters elsewhere until the living conditions improve.

A PLEDGE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day in my opinion is one of the most significant and beautiful occasions of the year. It shows the sentiment of the people toward those who gave their lives for a patriotism which is without a parallel. Memorial Day cannot be too tenderly revered by old and young, by those who participated in one of the nation's great struggles. Our country each year pays greater tribute and respect to the soldier living and dead and we hope it continues in a more expanded form.

European Lessons In Economics

Current conditions in France and Great Britain afford Americans an opportunity to see the results of two types of government programs that have led their countries to near disaster.

Worker unrest in France, sparked by a student protest, has placed that country in a position to challenge Great Britain for the title of "sick man of Europe."

French leaders are struggling to reach a settlement to end nationwide strikes and preserve the Gaullist government.

TO THE REST of the world, the protest strikes seemed to spring up quickly — almost a spur of the moment outburst. Perhaps the movement was spontaneous but economic conditions that spawned it has accumulated over a long period of time.

President Charles de Gaulle had been wrapped in his cloak of grandiose nationalism so long he had become insulated against the ferment building among his countrymen.

The strong-willed president had become so obsessed with proving France's independence to the world that he made decisions that did not have the best interests of the country at heart.

Even the step he did take to bolster the economy of France — joining the European Common Market — did not escape his personal crusade to belittle Great Britain and the United States and prove the strength and stability of his country.

De Gaulle has dominated the Common Market effort and tried to make it into an exclusive club rather than using it as a vehicle for European unity. He has ignored the possibility of molding the cooperative into a means of elevating economic standards in a number of other nations that seek membership.

While other nations have seen the light and are turning to broaden the trend.

The French president has forestalled expansionist efforts he felt would somehow detract from the sovereignty of France.

The result has been a workers' revolt. It is known that some unions in France are communist-dominated but, nevertheless, conditions favorable to revolt had to exist before they could be exploited politically.

Great Britain, on the other hand, got itself into trouble by spreading itself around the world and carrying on a cradle-to-the-grave welfare program at home.

With initiative dulled, unemployment rose and a deflated economy brought austerity moves that failed to shake the nation out of lethargy.

Great Britain found itself facing the prospect of having young people go directly from school onto the government dole.

In a bold attempt to solve its domestic crisis, Great Britain has been pulling its troops and influence out of far-flung places. The pound was devalued and shook the monetary structure of the world.

TODAY GREAT BRITAIN is in the tight grip of an austerity program, its influence around the world is at a record low point and the nation is far from being out of the woods.

Admittedly the U. S. economic picture is nothing to shout from the rooftops about, but the potential for corrective action is much greater because of the firm support for free enterprise in this nation. In other words, the full burden of solving U. S. economic problems does not fall upon the government. It is a partnership proposition with business interests and unions working with the government.

The responsibility of the U. S. government is to work for a sound fiscal program and to adopt policies that encourage a continuing increase in industrial growth.

The alternative is disaster.

Answer To Junker Clutter

The Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission last week discussed the unsightly clutter of junked autos across the countryside and what could be done to eliminate it.

The lack of demand for scrap steel was termed one reason why people could not be persuaded to have the rusting relics gathered up for some profit.

Comes now a report of a discovery which could change the whole junk car problem across the nation.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines reports it has discovered that by mixing auto scrap with low-grade taconite ore, which contains so little iron it is not worthwhile processing in its natural state, it can get a high grade magnetic mineral containing a 95 per cent iron.

What the bureau of mines is saying is that those rusted hulks in auto graveyards are useful in producing a high-grade iron ore.

Through a conversion process, the high-quality ore can be transformed into metal usable by Detroit in auto manufacturing.

What a breakthrough!

Maybe now the auto junkyards will start to disappear. It must be viewed as a slow process because old wrecks have such a big head start — and more are being added all the time.

But at least there is some reason to hope one of America's eyesores has been given a start along the road to oblivion.

We have our fingers crossed that the credibility gap hasn't reached the bureau of mines and we can take their report at face value.

If the process proves a success, the bureau of mines gets our nomination for an award for action above and beyond the call of duty in behalf of raising sagging spirits.

Prime Minister's Problem

Consider the plight of men like Prime Minister John Gorton of Australia who come to the United States to find out whether this country will honor its defense commitments in the Pacific after the Vietnam War is ended.

One must, indeed, be sympathetic with the prime minister, in view of the hue and cry heard in this country about not getting involved in "any more Vietnams."

AND WHEN at least two presidential aspirants have campaigned along that same line, it is understandable that the prime minister might think that "No more Vietnams" could mean "No Australias at all."

Even though President Johnson has assured him that this country will continue to honor its commitments, could he be expected to put much confidence in the assurance of a man about to be replaced?

Let's suppose Bobby Kennedy should succeed President Johnson. This prospect must throw a fright into the prime minister in view of Sen. Kennedy's current opposition to American involvement in Vietnam.

If Mr. Gorton were prime minister of Israel, he would not have to worry for Sen. Kennedy has said he would support Israel — with arms if necessary. But Australia is a long way off — in far away Asia.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that Prime Minister Gorton hopes to see Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Kennedy during his visit to the United States. Apparently he feels he knows something of the position of the other candidates, but these two — well, he wants to see them.

It is too bad that one of our staunchest fighting allies in the war in Vietnam should be so worried about whether or not the United States will be as good as its word.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Since last October when the picture of Danny Fulmer in his body cast appeared in the paper, he has received so many cards and things it was impossible for us to answer each one as we would have liked to.

So to all the wonderful people who helped make Danny's long stay easier to bear, we wish to thank each and every one. We never realized how many thoughtful people there are until Danny's accident.

He has saved every card and letter he received, and is making a large scrapbook of them. He still receives some.

We thank God he can now walk with the help of a brace on his left leg. The doctors say if all goes well, he can go to school this fall. He is looking forward to this.

We moved from Allison St. to Crawford Rd., Wellsville, where Danny has a level lawn and can get outside.

Cop On The Beat

The Parent Problem

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — A panel of distinguished students met at Waverly University last week to discuss the pressing topic of the day: "What is wrong with our parents?"

Cal Holden, class of '70, said the restlessness and unhappiness attributed to most parents these days could be blamed on the fact that students have been too permissive with their parents.

"We haven't stood up to them," he said. "We let them buy us cars and clothes and pay our tuition and give us vacations, and the more we let them do for us, the more surly and unmanageable they become."

Mary Beth Lou, '71, agreed. "When you spare the rod, you spoil the mother. I find parents are so much happier when you tell them what you want to do, instead of asking them what they want to do. Parents are like children. They need discipline. I have a great relationship with my parents only because when my father and mother get out of line I let them know it."

DICK DUNCAN, '69, said, "It seems to me that parents have too much money to spend. Everything's too easy for them. They have no real values. I think you would have to blame the economy for this. Advertisers are constantly appealing to parents. Because of their purchasing power, parents are made to think they're important, and they get an inflated opinion of themselves. Parents believe, since they are so sought after by the advertiser, that they know everything."

Sherry Cerf, '72, was one of the few to dissent with the panel.

"I think we're doing too much generalizing about parents. The minority of activist parents give the majority of parents a bad name. I think you'll find the average parent reasonable and interested in most things. Oh, they have kooky ideas about pot and sex, but when it gets to serious matters I find them level-headed."

Larry Massee, '70, said, "It seems to me the inability to get through to parents is a communications gap and students are to blame. We never ask where parents are going or what time they're coming back. When they try to tell their problems, we ignore them and pretend they're inconsequential."

"BUT THEIR PROBLEMS, no matter how minor they seem to us, are important to them. Most students spend so much time demonstrating and defying the college administrations that they don't have any time to devote to their own mothers and fathers."

"Larry's right," Esther Bird, '72, declared. "And I have a good illustration to prove it. The other night my father told me his business was bankrupt and he would have to go on relief. Now that didn't seem important to me, but for some reason it seemed important to him."

"So I listened to his problem, and he felt so much better afterward because I showed an interest. It's little things like this that build bridges between students and their bewildered parents."

"Red" Schaefer, '71, was not convinced. "The sociologists and psychologists are making too much of parents being confused and unhappy. All parents are unhappy or they wouldn't be parents."

"Instead of catering to them every time they complain about something, we should say to them, 'Until we're out of the house and able to make our own living, you have to go along with what we say and do or we'll just move out.' It's a futile exercise to try to appease parents who don't know what they want in the first place."

HERB SARGENT, '68, added: "I think we have to face up to the fact, whether we like it or not, that parents will be the biggest problem of the next generation. I suggest that we set up a study group to find out, first, how deep parent discontent is, second, what remedies can be taken to keep this discontent from getting out of hand, and third, we should suggest ways of channeling adult activism into socially acceptable patterns."

The proposal was adopted unanimously and the Ford Foundation agreed to underwrite it.

Paris Talks Give Ho A Break

By Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON — From detailed information this reporter gathered in his recent trip to Southeast Asia, there is no doubt that Ho Chi Minh is in deep trouble.

He is facing dissatisfaction—and a jittery population—at home. He is plagued with manpower shortages. Great dissatisfaction exists among North Vietnam's mistreated minorities. His officials daily bring him longer lists of work slowdowns and growing nonco-operation with the government by farmers and factory workers alike.

Animosities are growing between the guerrillas of South Vietnam and the North Vietnamese invasion troops. Sometimes this dislike verges on hatred.

Reports circulate of quarrels within Ho's own inner circle. Considerable grumbling occurs within the middle hierarchy of the North Vietnamese Communist party.

HO'S ARMY is plagued by a growing shortage of experienced officers and men. In his political underground, Ho has not been able to replace adequately the topflight men he has lost through death, desertion, old age and discouragement. A growing tiredness pervades his junior — executive political and economic organizers.

Meanwhile, Ho is running up a heavy debt to Red China and Soviet Russia for arms, Chinese labor and supplies that he can't afford. With heavy aid commitments in Cuba, the Middle East and Africa, the Soviet Union is likewise feeling the pinch.

So Ho needs some sort of a respite to enable him to continue his war against South Vietnam.

Thus the Paris talks. Just by agreeing to talks, Ho has persuaded the United States to continue a bombing cut-back that has relieved Hanoi, Haiphong and most of North Vietnam's other populated areas from the harassment of daily bombing. This reduces his domestic strains.

It has made it possible for Ho to step up the infiltration of troops and material into South Vietnam. It has sparked suspicion, infighting and division within the South Vietnamese government.

Ho's first objectives would be achieved by continuing these talks as long as possible so that the United States would continue its bombing holdback.

COMMUNIST doctrine would call for making uncstly but psychologically significant concessions — such as freeing U.S. flyers — when necessary to keep the United States from resuming heavy bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong area and other key regions of North Vietnam.

Meanwhile, under cover of sensational raids, Ho's men in South Vietnam will attempt to rebuild and strengthen their underground political structure in the hamlets and increase their organizational network in the cities. For this is what the war is all about.

This means the United States, while talking in Paris, had better make certain that its civilian pacification work, its building of South Vietnam's democratic political understructure and its training of the South Vietnamese army moves ahead now at an accelerated pace.

Draft Cards

Many students in college and other persons who engage in riots and disturbances have mistakenly been led to believe that "demonstrations" of almost any kind are lawful under the right of "free speech." The Supreme Court of the United States, however, by a 7-to-1 decision, has just ruled that the law which forbids the mutilation or destruction of draft cards is constitutional and must be obeyed.

Official reports show that more than 600 persons in 46 states have illegally disposed of draft cards.

The High court proclaims that Congress has the right to pass laws protecting the Selective Service System, because the Constitution says Congress is empowered to make all laws necessary "to raise and support armies."

THE SUPREME COURT declares also it cannot accept the view that "an apparently limitless variety of conduct can be labeled 'speech' whenever the person engaging in the conduct tends thereby to express an idea." The court comments further:

"A law prohibiting destruction of selective service certificates no more abridges free speech on its face than a motor vehicle law prohibiting the destruction of drivers' licenses, or a tax law prohibiting the destruction of books and records."

The latest decision, moreover, may serve as a warning to those who have been trying to interfere with recruiting by the armed services on the campuses of many colleges. No case of this kind has as yet reached the high court, but the Monday pronouncement makes clear the constitutional power of Congress to maintain armies is "broad and sweeping."

This week's decision, which affirmed a prison sentence for the young man who burned his draft card, had only one dissent — the opinion by Justice William O. Douglas. He said that the court should rule on the constitutionality of a peacetime draft, since the Congress has not "declared war" in Vietnam. He expressed doubt whether "conscription is permissible in the absence of a declaration of war." If taken literally, this might mean that large armies couldn't be trained in preparation for war.

Congress — in a joint resolution passed by both houses after the Gulf of Tonkin incident in 1964 — authorized the use of the armed forces of the United States to take whatever action the President deemed necessary to Southeast Asia "to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

The Korean War was fought without a "declaration of war." This was because the Senate previously had ratified the charter of the United Nations, under which the collective action of individual member is authorized.

Similarly, the United States now has joined with other nations — Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, Thailand and the Philippines — in a collective defense of South Vietnam. This is based on the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty, which was also ratified by the United States Senate.

The Supreme Court in its ruling this week ignored Justice Douglas's contention with respect to a declaration of war in Vietnam and took the position that the argument was not germane to the case.

IF THE PRESIDENT of the United States could not use the armed services to protect the interests of this country without a declaration of war, incalculable losses could be inflicted. Thus, if nuclear bombs were suddenly dropped on cities in the United States without warning and Congress was not in session, Justice Douglas's theory could mean that no measures to intercept such an attack could be lawfully taken until Congress passed a "declaration of war."

The high court's concept that interference with draft regulations is a criminal offense and that the destruction of draft cards is an injury to the Selective Service System has for many years been supported by legal officers of the government. But the "demonstrations" which have advertised the belief that, under "freedom of speech," it is permissible to burn draft cards have wrongly encouraged many students throughout the country to defy the law.

Hence the widest dissemination needs to be given to the latest decision of the Supreme Court so the public will no longer be misled.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO, The Ladies Aid Society of the Shippingport Methodist Church sponsored a play, "Twelve Old Maids" by the Raccoon Club.

Two Sentenced In Local Cases

Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon sentenced two East Liverpool youths Wednesday afternoon and placed a third on probation. He also sentenced a Salem man.

David L. Roberts, 20, of Drain St. was sentenced to 10 to 25 years in the Ohio State Reformatory for an armed robbery last July 24 at Adrian's Catering Service on St. Clair Ave. Ext.

However, since it is the opinion of psychiatrists at Lima State Hospital that the youth is a psychopathic offender, Judge Sharp suspended the sentence indefinitely and ordered Roberts returned to the state hospital until authorities approve his commitment to the reformatory.

ROBERTS last September pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity and was sent to Lima for an examination and report. Subsequently, he withdrew the plea, pleaded guilty and asked for probation. Then, when the probation hearing came up April 4, the judge ordered Roberts returned to Lima for another examination because the parents and adult probation officer "feel the youth is in desperate need of psychiatric attention."

At the request of Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis yesterday, Judge Sharp dismissed another armed robbery charge against Roberts — an $80 hold-up last July 26 at Berlie's Diner on Mulberry St.

John William Finley, 18, of 820 Highland Ave., who was convicted of one burglary in a jury trial and pleaded guilty to another break-in, was denied probation and was sentenced to the reformatory for 1 to 15 years on each count. The sentences may be served together.

FINLEY was indicted for burglaries Dec. 14 at the Petrol Service Station on Pennsylvania Ave. and the Sunoco Service Station on Route 170 at St. Clair Ave. Ext.

David Cunningham, 19, of 114 E. 2nd St. was granted probation for one year after pleading guilty to malicious destruction of property and petty larceny. He was accused of ripping a pay telephone off the wall at the Patterson - Wetzel Laundromat, 932 St. Clair Ave., last Oct. 1.

Cunningham is serving a 90-day sentence handed down last month by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court for harboring and concealing a felon. Judge Buzzard put Cunningham on probation for five years.

Charles G. Bailey, 21, of 162 W. Pershing St., Salem, was sentenced to six months in the County Jail for assault and battery, but Judge Sharp suspended three months and gave him credit for time in jail since the offense April 8. Bailey is due for release July 6.

The April grand jury indicted him for assault with a dangerous weapon (a 17½-inch blade knife) on John R. Phillips of Leontina in front of the Village Restaurant, 139 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem.

Bailey had pleaded not guilty. The court yesterday accepted his plea of guilty to assault and battery, a lesser, included offense.

Deaths and Funerals

John Golden

John W. Golden, 75, of 1115 Vine St. died suddenly Wednesday night at 8 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. James (Betty) Sheldon of Rochester.

A former city florist, he was born Oct. 14, 1892, a son of Ocelia Golden and Katherine Orr Golden. He retired more than ten years ago.

He was a member of the Riddle Lodge 315 Masonic Lodge, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, 32nd Masons, East Liverpool Chapter 100 Royal Arch Masons, Keramos Council 95, Pilgrim Commandery Knight Templars 55, Al Koran Temple, Cleveland, and the East Liverpool IOOF Lodge.

He was also a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. His wife, Greta, died in August 1964.

In addition to his daughter, survivors include a son, John W. Golden Jr. of Columbiana; three sisters, Mrs. Viola Johnson and Mrs. Edith Nichols of East Liverpool and Mrs. Margaret Hall of Palmetto, Fla.; three brothers, Harold Golden of Palmetto, Fla., and Donald Golden and Richard Golden of East Liverpool; and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2:00 p.m. in the Dawson Funeral Home.

Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Mrs. Lucy Putnam

Services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home for Mrs. Lucy E. Putnam, 88, formerly of Route 39, Wellsville, who died Wednesday at 2:40 a.m. in City Hospital after an illness of several years.

The Rev. William Mautz of East Liverpool and the Rev. Glenn Logston of Lisbon will officiate.

Burial will follow in Columbiana County Memorial Park. Friends may call at the funeral home today.

Mrs. Herbert Brammer

Mrs. Virginia Mae Brammer, 45, wife of Herbert F. Brammer of Carrollton RD 2, a former Irondale area resident, died at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at home following a brief illness.

She had resided in the Irondale area 15 years before moving to Carrollton five years ago. Mrs. Brammer was born April 13, 1923, in Fayette County, W. Va., a daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Rossey of Carrollton RD 2 and the late Arthur Rossey. She was a member of the Salineville Church of Christ. She was married Jan. 28, 1940.

In addition to her husband and mother, survivors include three sons, Donald William Brammer of Carrollton RD, Sgt. Jack L. Brammer of Ft. Campbell, Ky., and Gary Wayne Brammer at home; a daughter, Mrs. Pamela Sue Lutton of Minerva; three brothers, Lester Rossey of Carrollton, Glenn Rossey and Harold Rossey, both of Carrollton RD 2; a sister, Mrs. Shirley Pyles of Carrollton RD 2, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Allmon Funeral Home in Carrollton by the Rev. Richard C. Swigger. Burial will be in Westview Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

3 Attend Course On Emergencies

Mrs. Ila Johnston and Mrs. Mildred Smith of East Liverpool, nurses at City Hospital, and Daniel MacLean of the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville attended an advanced practical course on initial emergency care and transportation of the sick and injured in Akron. They received certificates.

The course was sponsored by the Committee on Injuries of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

Mrs. Johnston serves as the hospital's emergency room supervisor in the afternoon and Mrs. Smith is head nurse in the room.

Installation Held By Choir Parents

New officers of the East Liverpool High School Choir Parents were installed Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Officers are Raymond Richards, president; Dale Channels, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Channels, secretary, and John Gaurn, treasurer.

William Gaston, retiring president, expressed appreciation to his officers and chairman.

The group will meet in September at the new high school, when parents of sophomores will be recognized.

2 Youths Sentenced

LISBON — Two 17-year-old youths, both married, were sentenced Wednesday in Juvenile Court for assault on a 20-year-old Salineville girl in their car.

One boy is a father and the other about to be. Both are Hanoverton youths, but one now resides in Salem.

Judge Louis Tobin ordered them held in detention until they reach 18 next fall when they will begin serving one-year sentences as general prisoners.

GEORGE ROBINSON
39 Years' Service.

Local Resident Will Retire From Mill At Midland

George W. Robinson of East Liverpool will retire Saturday from the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Corp. after 39 years service.

He started at Midland as a laborer in April 1929 and has worked the last 10 years as a janitor in the shop area. Married, he has a son, James D. Robinson, who is employed in the service department. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have four grandchildren.

Others retiring are James W. Cullison of East Liverpool, a laborer in the Blast Furnace Department with 20 years service, and Edward Pumphrey of Midland, a casting chipper in the Iron Foundry with 17 years service.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I repair cracked patent leather?

A. — There's no mend for this. Just conceal the cracks as best you can by dyeing the fabric underneath. In future, prevent this cracking by rubbing the leather with petroleum jelly and avoiding exposure to heat.

Q. — How can I camouflage small nicks and chips in painted surfaces?

A. — Ordinary wax crayons do a creditable patching job. Rub a crayon of matching color lightly over the marred area, and this will both fill in and color the damaged spots in painted surfaces.

Q. — How can I return old, hardened glue to usable consistency?

A. — Try placing a few drops of vinegar in the glue container.

Q. — How can I repair a hole in a rug?

A. — Stitch burlap to the wrong side of the rug, then with a crochet hook pull matching material through this to match the surrounding weave as closely as possible. To se-

Trophy Winners

William Croskey and Jessica Hawk display the trophies they won Sunday during the annual Wellsville Jaycee Road-e-o.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Croskey of 327 Ridge Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hawk of 1821 Chester Ave.

Croskey won in the boys' division with 257 points out of a possible 350 and Miss Hawk with 227. The two will compete in the statewide finals at Cincinnati June 7-8.

They will be accompanied by Mike Cook, Road-e-o chairman, and his wife, and John Sawyer, co-chairman.

The top six winners at Cincinnati will advance to national competition at Ann Arbor, Mich., in August. Prizes there will include $14,000 in scholarships and use of Mercury Cougars for one year.

Plaques and savings bonds will be presented to winners at state competition.

Twenty boys and 10 girls participated in the event here Sunday. Judges were Lt. Paul Blevins of the East Liverpool police department, John Sawyer, Wellsville driver education teacher, and Fusco, chairman of the board of trustees of the Wellsville Jaycees.

James Boyle was the third member of the Road-e-o committee.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Esther DeTemple 424-5965

LISBON — "Thank you" notes for various contributions were read when the Eagles Auxiliary met Tuesday night.

They were from the Ohio State Girls School, the Max Baer Heart Fund and Boys Village.

Mrs. Virginia Hedl and Mrs. Elva Fife represented the Auxiliary during ceremonies for the day.

The past state president, Mrs. Dorothy McCormick of Leontia, assisted in the ceremonies and Mrs. Hedl, a past president and now secretary of the Lisbon Auxiliary, assisted with the secretarial work.

Members were reminded of the District 8 meeting at Niles June 19.

The attendance prize at Tuesday's meeting was won by Mrs. Arille Paulini.

Officers will be installed during the next meeting June 11. Members are to bring a covered dish. Rolls, coffee and butter will be furnished.

Farewell Party Held

Women employees of the county commissioners' office force held a farewell party Tuesday night for Mrs. Judy Shingleton of Salem, who has resigned her position as deputy clerk for other employment.

They dined at the Hippy Hop Restaurant on Rt. 62, west of Salem. Mrs. Shingleton was presented a gift. Others attending were Mrs. Alma Huffman, Mrs. Edna Ray, Mrs. Doris Ferguson, Mrs. Mary Robinson and Mrs. Joan Rudibaugh.

Silver Circle Meets

The Silver Circle of the First Christian Church met Tuesday night at Morgan House, beginning with a 6:30 covered dinner. Mrs. Evan Evans was a guest.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Nannie Meehan, president.

Mrs. Emerson Hively presented two poems, one of which was taken from a May 1910 Patriot paper published here.

The next meeting will be June 25.

$27,975 Granted In Land Dispute

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Wednesday allowed a Lisbon area dairy farmer $27,975 in his dispute with the Ohio Highway Department in a land appropriation case.

William T. Vebulun of the Lisbon-Elkton Rd. had turned down the state's offer of $6,066 for approximately 31 acres needed for the relocation of Route 154 at the Route 11 (Lake Erie-to-Ohio River freeway) interchange east of here.

All 12 jurors signed the verdict allowing Vebulun $6,975 for land taken and $21,000 for damages. The hearing began Tuesday before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

presented the demands. The Rev. Oscar Arnal of the Ohio View Lutheran Church offered the closing remarks.

It was agreed before the walk that the same trio would answer any questions and if there were none, the delegation would leave.

NAACP branches from East Liverpool, Dayton and Aliquippa also were represented.

No one heckled the group during the march.

When the group arrived at the borough building, they took seats in the Council Chamber.

Mayor Corak, members of Council and Mrs. Frederika Folks of Midland took seats at the front.

The demands were then presented. Also present with the group was Matthew Moore of Pittsburgh, state NAACP organizer, and Fr. Donald McIlvane of Pittsburgh.

ONLY ABOUT half were residents of Midland, according to borough officials.

McCloud in his remarks said the NAACP had waited seven years for action. He said demands have been presented to the administration and the Human Relations Commission, but they have not been met.

Leavell presented four specific demands. He said he wanted Negroes to be hired by the Municipal Authority, the First National Bank and Midland Branch of the Beaver Trust Co. He also asked that recommendation on equal housing be accepted. He then asked for removal of Mrs. Spisak because of "her discriminatory practices."

Rev. Arnal made brief remarks at the close, stating he was there on "behalf of the Black Man."

Fr. McIlvane, pastor of St. Richards Church at Pittsburgh, and a member of the Catholic Inter-Racial Council, the Pittsburgh Branch of the NAACP and the Pittsburgh Area Religious and Race Council, then spoke.

He commented about the mayor's standing at the desk, rather than sitting. He said, "This shows me you are trying to get rid of us."

THE MAYOR said this was a habit — standing — especially when addressing clergy.

Fr. McIlvane declared the Mayor's Human Relations Commission had failed in its purpose.

Mayor Corak responded, "I say without fear of contradiction, may one resident of Midland here show me any one time that this administration has shown any kind of discrimination." The Mayor then listed the names of several Negroes who have been hired in Midland, including James Morrison, a school board director and Leonard Ware, a councilman.

Corak said, "In 1950 I had never even heard of the NAACP. Yet when we hired two policemen, one was a Negro I had grown up with. This has always been the pattern in Midland. Just last week we hired swimming pool personnel, including Negroes. In fact, the cashier is a young Negro girl."

"Since I became county commissioner, we have hired many Negroes for county positions. The Mayor's Youth Corps employed many Negro young people each summer."

HE SAID, "You people have nothing to complain about. This is a model integrated town."

Moore then charged the term "you people" was offensive. With that Moore started walking out and the others followed. Mrs. Golding urged the group not to leave but hear the mayor out.

After the group left, the mayor said, "Everyone in our house, Midland, is thoroughly warm and fed. There has been no discrimination."

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Coordinating Committee has accused the Pentagon of prolonging the Vietnam war by shifting military decisions from generals to civilians.

The committee described the office of secretary of defense Tuesday as a "separate empire" with an "over-reliance on cost accounting procedures and computer techniques—and a downgrading of seasoned human judgement."

The committee's policy paper said, "The most current and disturbing example of the reduced role of the military in strategic and tactical decisions is Vietnam."

"A policy of gradualism largely dictated by civilians has been imposed, which has prolonged the war, increased the casualties and divided the American people."

"The paper was prepared by a task force headed by former defense secretaries Neil H. McElroy and Thomas S. Gates Jr. for use with other base material in developing this year's Republican Platform."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal for more liberal pensions for congressmen and foreign service officers has been approved 24 to 3 by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Congressmen's contributions—matched by the government—would be increased to 10 per cent from 7.5 under the plan approved by the committee Tuesday.

The formula for computing the annuity rate would be raised to 3.3 per cent from 2.5—on final salary rather than on an average five-year period as now.

The maximum annuity for foreign service officers would be raised from 70 per cent of the high five-year average to 80 per cent.

Capital Footnotes

The State Department denied Tuesday a report the United States sounded out Fidel Castro's Cuban regime on the possibility of resuming diplomatic relations. Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the Newsweek magazine report "is not true."

The Civil Aeronautics Board says it will conduct a hearing

Friday on the Soviet airline Aeroflot's application for a route between Moscow and New York. Pan American World Airways would have similar flights under an exchange agreement.

Capital Quote

"Some just honestly can't cut it. But for many of us it's a matter of going for broke."—The Rev. Jesse Jackson, Resurrection City's city manager, saying rains and mud are causing some Poor People's Campaign marchers to leave but unifying those who stay.

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I remove perspiration stains from fabrics?

A. — On unwashables, sometimes only dry-cleaning is the answer. But first you can try sprinkling some water-moistened cornstarch on the area, brushing this off when it has dried. On washables, if ordinary laundering fails, sponge the spots with vinegar.

Q. — How can I peel beets more easily?

A. — Beets will peel easily if you cover them with cold water for a minute after they have been boiled. Many other such cookery tips are included in my household book.

Bill Advanced To Bar Use Of Federal Land For Camps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Public Works Committee, in action stemming from the Poor People's Campaign, approved today a bill which would bar use of federal property in the District of Columbia for overnight campsites.

The measure would prohibit upon enactment any federal or District official from issuing a permit for the use of parkland or other property for camping, sleeping, sitting in or other overnight occupancy or for the construction of any temporary buildings.

The bill is stiffer than a somewhat similar one approved by the committee some weeks ago in an effort to prevent issuance of a permit to the Poor People's Campaign to erect temporary buildings and camp on federal parkland near Lincoln Memorial.

The Department of the Interior issued the permit, allowing use of the land until June 16, and the marchers have been camping on the land for some two weeks.

The new measure also would prohibit renewal or extension of any permit already authorized. It would include all land in the District, whereas the previous measure would exclude an area in the southern Anacostia section of Washington.

The measure approved today also would set up a Joint Congressional Committee on Citizen Grievances to receive the oral or written petitions of citizens for redress of grievances.

Labor Day is celebrated on May 1 in nearly every industrial country except the United States and Canada, where it is observed on the first Monday in September. It was officially declared a legal holiday in the United States by an act of Congress on June 28, 1894.

Mrs. Wanda Greenwood based devotions on a poem, "Keep Climbing," during the meeting of Sigma Alpha Class of the First Church of Christ Tuesday night with Mrs. Mildred Woolley of St. Clair Ave.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Janice Twyford, vice president.

Mrs. Ernadine Clark, in charge of entertainment, awarded contest prizes to Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Beulah Jones, Mrs. Twyford and Miss Jennifer Allison.

Refreshments were served 14 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Iva Allison and Mrs. Roberta Yonz. Mrs. Ruth Kind was a guest.

The class will meet June 25 with Mrs. June Costello of Blackmore St. Mrs. Gladys Channels and Mrs. Hall will be co-hostesses.

Mrs. Anna Patterson, president of the East Liverpool Garden Club, announced a flower show for June 12 during a meeting with Mrs. Helen Clark of Maine Blvd. Mrs. John Keller was assistant hostess.

The show, sponsored by the forum garden club of Greater Youngstown, will be in the Boardman Methodist Church. The local club is a member of the forum. Tickets will be available at the door.

The club received an invitation from the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society to cooperate in a booth during the Tri-State Pottery Festival in June.

"Conservation in Action" was the program theme. Miss Clara Dunlap discussed the preservation of wild flowers. Mrs. Clarence Green related practices of soil and water conservation taken from a publication by the Soil Conservation Service entitled "Web of Life," dealing with ecology.

Mrs. Leo C. Lawrence spoke on birds and other wildlife. Roll call was a plant or tree on the conservation list.

The "container" prizes were received by Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Keller.

A buffet luncheon was served. The group will visit the Kempe Glass display room at East Palestine June 28. A picnic lunch is being planned, with Mrs. Donald Wolfe in charge.

A bridal shower honoring Miss Carolyn Griffin was given by members of the Pleasant Heights United Brethren in Christ Church recently at the Glenmoor service center of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Refreshments were served 27 at a buffet table decorated in a pink and yellow theme. The centerpiece was a miniature bridal couple. Favors were net bags of colored rice tied with

Karen Elaine Maola Wed In St. Ann's Church Rites

Miss Karen Elaine Maola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent L. Maola of 525 Wedgewood Ave., became the bride of William F. Bremer Jr., son of Mrs. Ina Bremer of Canton and William F. Bremer of Long Beach, Calif., during a noon ceremony May 18 at St. Ann's Church.

Fr. William Hohman officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli and carnations and candelabra. The bride placed a floral arrangement before the statue of the Virgin Mary. Mrs. John Nuzzo was organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of candelabra organza over satin, designed in A-line styling and accented with Alencon lace motifs touched with pearls. The bodice featured a round neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The Watteau train was attached at the shoulders.

Her elbow-length tulle veil was held in place by a rose petal headpiece. She carried a cascade of white roses tied with satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a pearl bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Frances Gallo was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Frances Leon, cousin of the bride, and Miss Gwenn Seaver. They appeared in gowns fashioned with Empire bodices of brocade satin and pink buffed crepe sheath skirts. The pink satin Watteau trains were detachable.

Their headpieces were pink satin rosebud clusters and matching tulle veils. They carried baskets of pink daisies and carnations. They all wore the gifts of the bride, pendant necklaces of ivory with pink centers.

Susan and Kim Gilbert, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They wore pink satin dresses designed identically to that of the bridesmaids and carried small baskets of pink daisies and carnations.

Wayne Prill served as best man. Ushers were Ronald Gilbert, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Jack Clemons.

The mother of the bride chose a pink shantung crepe dress

Mrs. Phyllis Davis, with prizes awarded Mrs. Nell Heidel and Mrs. Bertha Woods.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Green and Mrs. Gladys Durham.

Mrs. Helen Schell will be social chairman June 25.

Forty members of the Helping Hands Class of the Pleasant Heights United Brethren in Christ Church attended a cooking demonstration Tuesday night at the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

The next session will be June 28 with Mrs. Charlene Olmstead of Baxter St.

Two groups of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Church of Christ will meet Monday — Esther Circle in the afternoon at the church, with Mrs. Gladys Channels and Mrs. Verna Boulton hostesses, and Leona Holroyd Circle in the evening with Mrs. June Costello of Blackmore St.

Officers were installed at the dinner party of the Auxiliary of Glenmoor American Legion Post 736 Monday night at the Timberlans in Salem. They are:

Mrs. Olive Wright, president; Mrs. Mildred Stowers, first vice president; Mrs. Beverly Langer, second vice president; Mrs. Jackie Bayer, secretary; Mrs. Mary Jane Foulks, treasurer, and Mrs. Nancy Foutts, chaplain.

Mrs. Lela Mathess, a past president, was installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Betty Mick, acting chaplain.

Mrs. Carol Virden, retiring president, presented the gavel to Mrs. Wright.

Plans were made to serve the installation coverdinner for the men's group June 1 and send a delegation to the 10th District meeting June 8-10 in Wellsville, when Post 70 will be host unit. The next session will be June 11.

Two groups of the Grace United Presbyterian Church will meet Monday — Dorcas Circle at the home of Mrs. Dolores Moore of St. George St.

with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother a mint green lace dress with matching accessories. Corsages of white roses and carnations complemented their attire.

A RECEPTION for 300 followed at the Calcutta fire hall, where Miss Joann Caruso and Miss Mary Kay Caruso, cousins of the bride, registered guests. The buffet table was highlighted with pink tulle and wedding bells and centered with a four-tier cake topped with wedding bells. Silver candelabra completed the setting.

The gift table was covered with a white satin cloth accented with sprays of lily-of-the-valley. This was the gift of Mrs. Dan Ulizio, aunt of the bride.

For her honeymoon trip to the Northeast, the bride wore a pale pink sheath with matching accessories.

The bride was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1964 and her husband from Canton Lincoln High School in 1963. They both were graduated in March from Kent State University, where they majored in secondary education, and have been teaching in the Canton school system.

The newlyweds are residing in Canton.

The bridegroom's mother entertained for the rehearsal dinner party at The Willows in Industry.

and McLain Circle at the church, where a "finger lunch" will be featured.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Mishap

A Hookstown area youth is in "fair" condition at City Hospital after his motorcycle skidded off Route 30 near the intersection of Route 8, two miles east of Chester, about 12:55 p. m. Wednesday.

Robert Lyons, 17, of Hookstown RD 1 suffered lacerations of the forehead, left elbow, multiple abrasions of the arms, legs and face.

A passenger on the motorcycle, Barbara Barrett, 17, of Hookstown RD 1, was treated for abrasions of the left elbow and both knees.

Lyons, who was traveling west on Route 30, attempted to avoid striking a truck which had stopped in front of his vehicle and went off the road.

West Virginia state police investigated.

The theme "Women of the Bible" was used by Miss Ina O'Brien for devotions when Class 6 of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church met Tuesday night in the social rooms. She discussed Bible women influential in founding the early church and teachers in the church school and concluded with a poem.

Mrs. Hazel Fraser, president, opened the business session with prayer. The blessing was given by Mrs. Marie Jenkins.

The buffet table was centered with a patriotic color bouquet of peonies, Star of Bethlehem and Japanese iris. Hostesses were Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Marian Stanley, Mrs. Anna Wilkins and Mrs. Irene Wathey. Favors were miniature American flags.

Wilmer Ralston led the study on the religion of Buddhism when the Live Wire Class met Monday night in the social rooms of the First Christian Church.

John Duck presided. Mrs. Dolores Ralston was in charge of devotions, with the theme "The Greatest of These is Charity."

Games were conducted by Mrs. Mary Barnett, with prizes going to Jack Rockhold, the Rev. Robert Schondelmayer, John Martin and Mrs. Kathy Riddle.

The class will honor the graduating seniors of the church Sunday. Lunch was served by the hosts. The June meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Route 45.

Ohio State U. Coed Held In Fatal Blaze

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A freshman coed was in custody Wednesday as a material witness in Ohio State University's May 22 Lincoln Tower dormitory fire that resulted in the death of two other coeds.

Investigators of the state arson Bureau have said it was a "set" fire without elaborating. They say the investigation is continuing, particularly a search for a motive.

As a second coed died of smoke inhalation caused by the blaze on the 11th floor of the 24-story dormitory, investigators called a news conference to announce the latest development.

Terry Drake, first assistant state fire marshal, said the investigators had taken Harriet Frances Leeb, 19, a freshman of South Euclid, Cuyahoga County, into custody early Wednesday.

Blast, Fire Fatal To 10

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A gas explosion turned a day nursery in suburban Hapeville into a blazing mass of wreckage Wednesday, killing ten persons, including eight children.

There was no identification of the dead several hours after the blast, as rescue workers continued to probe the ruins for one child still missing.

Heroic efforts by nursery employees kept the death toll from going higher. Police said the nursery manager and an assistant were among the dead.

How Can I? By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — Is there anything I can do with an electric shaver that isn't operating just right? A. — Try cleaning the head according to the manufacturer's directions. If this doesn't improve its operation, your shaver probably needs professional servicing.

Q. — How can I remedy a cloudy or streaked mirror? A. — Add ammonia to water, and swab this over the mirror with a chamois. Then wring the chamois well out, and wipe the water off. Or, mix cold water with starch and apply to the mirror. When this is perfectly dry, wipe the powdery starch off with a dry cloth. If streaks prove somewhat stubborn, you can sometimes deal with them with oil-type furniture polish.

Q. — How can I forestall rust in my iron kitchen pots and vessels? A. — After washing, wipe these vessels thoroughly dry, then apply a little lard or vegetable shortening.

New Eagle Scout

Tim L. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Wood of Frischkorn Heights, Wellsville RD 1, was awarded the rank of Eagle Scout by Milton McElroy, committee chairman, at a special Court of Honor Tuesday in the First Christian Church at Wellsville.

Wood is a member of Troop 22 of Scaroyadi Lodge, Order of the Arrow. His scouting activities include two years service on the volunteer staff at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake and three years on the central staff.

He also has served three years on the Junior Leaders training staff at Camp McKinley, Lisbon, and in his own troop as a patrol leader, assistant patrol leader, senior patrol leader and presently as junior assistant scoutmaster.

Awards he has received include first place in an essay contest on American Heritage sponsored by Cherokee District. His essay was entitled "What the Scout Oath Means to Me as a Responsible American Citizen."

He is also one of six campers who have earned the five-year heritage award at Camp Twin Spruce.

He will be graduated from Southern Local High School Tuesday and plans to enter the College of Agriculture of Ohio State University, where he will major in Conservation and Natural Resources.

Other achievements include sophomore class president, junior class vice president and senior class president. He played football for four years, basketball for two and was on the track team for two years.

HE WAS a member of the FTA, National Honor Society, Latin Club and on the school newspaper and yearbook staffs. He also served as corporation secretary and president of the Patterson Industries Junior Achievement Co. He was selected by John Adams American Legion Post 442 of Salineville to attend Buckeye Boys State in 1967.

Those participating in the ceremonies Tuesday night were members of Troop 22: Phillip Nelson, Cherokee District executive; Lou Landfried, assistant district commissioner; Jack F. Baker, principal of Southern Local High School; Bruce Wellington, Eagle Scout, and the Rev. Robert Schondelmeyer, pastor of the church.

Firemen To Launch Fund Drive Saturday

South Side firemen will begin a two-week fund drive Saturday, soliciting residents of Greene Township, Georgetown and Hookstown.

Literature for home use will be distributed.

The use of Aramaic, the language probably spoken by Jesus, died out in the 7th century of the Christian era. Arabic took its place, except in a few isolated villages.

The monk Dionysius Exiguus, in the 6th century, introduced the time by counting the years from the birth of Christ. He miscalculated four to six years later than the actual date.

Definite authorship of the Epistle to the Hebrews in the New Testament is unknown. It has been credited to Barnabas, Apollo and the Apostle Paul.

Flood Dangers Passing Rapidly In South Ohio

By The Associated Press
Flood dangers were passing rapidly in southern Ohio Wednesday afternoon and night, even as federal hydrologists reported that the recent heavy rains which inundated the area produced record or near-record streamflows in many sections. Main streams such as the Scioto and Hocking and their many tributaries were falling rapidly, giving rise to hope that the water-logged residents in a dozen counties might get some relief today.

In Washington, the Office of Emergency planning said there had been no decision on whether some Ohio counties are to be declared disaster areas, but that a decision is likely within a week.

U.S. Geological Survey hydrologists reported on the stream flow.

John J. Malloy, district chief for the Survey's Water Resources Division in Ohio, said that, for example, streamflow in Raccoon Creek in Adamsville, Gallia County, reached a maximum rate of 17,500 cubic feet per second (one cubic foot per second is equivalent to about 646,000 gallons per day) — the highest flow experienced in the 53 years during which records have been kept for that site.

Maximum flow of the Hocking River at Athens, which for a time was isolated by flood waters of the Hocking, reached a rate of 35,000 cubic feet per second, the second highest rate of flow in 96 years.

Still to be tallied is the enormous damage done by the floods in Athens, Hocking, Licking, Ross, Scioto, Warren, Clermont and Pickaway counties, all hard hit, as well as in some other counties.

State authorities have made a preliminary, incomplete damage estimate of approximately $9 million, but this does not include much private damage to farm fields and crops, and houses damaged by flood waters. There was an estimated $500,000 damage alone to the campus of Ohio University.

The hundreds of people who had to evacuate their homes in many counties were returning again Wednesday. They had a brief respite in many cases Saturday and Sunday only to see more rains swell the rivers and streams again Monday and Tuesday.

Hard-hit Athens and Hocking County communities were watching the Hocking River go down. At Athens the river crested Wednesday at 22.21 feet and after that started falling rapidly. Major roads in and out of Athens were opened, but some homes in Athens were still surrounded by water.

Students from Ohio University and city crews worked most of the night repairing a Baltimore & Ohio trestle applying sand bags to it to keep it in fairly good shape.

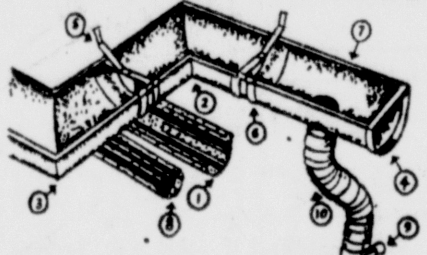

In Logan and Hocking County the Hocking was down to 12 feet or two feet over the flood stage, and falling rapidly. The same situation was at Nelsonville.

In Cincinnati the Ohio River at mid-day Wednesday stood at 56.3 feet and Weather Bureau officials increased the predicted floor crest for today to 57 feet.

The Ohio Division of Parks and Recreation reported less than 30 per cent of its facilities have been hit by flooding. Most state parks will be open with limited facilities for today's Memorial Day holiday, however.

Other Nominations Confirmed

Pennsylvania Senate OKs Flat Racing Appointees

HARRISBURG (AP)—After a delay of two months in some cases, the Senate has confirmed a host of executive nominations, including the new appointees to the Horse Racing Commission.

Approved as the state's first flat racing commissioners were A. Marilyn Moyer Jr. of Trevese and Roy Wilkinson Jr. of Bellefonte, both Republicans, and Thomas A. Livingston of Pittsburgh, Democrat.

Other major nominations approved included: Raymond Bollinger, to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; John K. Tabor, as labor secretary; Robert Johnson, to the Milk Control Commission; nine members of the State Board of Education, and nine appointees to the Science and Engineering Foundation.

The Senate vote came two weeks after Shafer sharply criticized the Republican-controlled chamber for failure to act on the nominations.

The delay in confirming the Racing Commission, Shafer said, cost the state needed revenue and ended hope that the newly legalized sport could be started this year.

The new commissioners now must organize a staff and begin to award licenses. Their nominations have been pending two months.

The Turnpike Commission with the appointment of Bollinger, now will have four Republicans and one Democrat. Bollinger of Richland replaces Democrat Joseph J. Lawler of Jessup in the $15,000 position.

Tabor, who has been serving in the $25,000 labor position as acting secretary, was nominated last March 4. He replaces William J. Hart.

Johnson, a former Montgomery County Republican senator, was nominated for his $12,500 post on the Milk Commission last April 1.

Confirmed to the 17-member education board were: Gail L. Rose of Renfrew; James H. Rowland of Harrisburg; Leonard N. Wolf of Scranton; Parke H. Lutz of Denver; Dr. William Potter of Wilkesburg, and William Rea of Pittsburgh, all reappointments.

Also Mrs. Althea K. Hottel of Bryn Mawr; Dr. Deming Lewis of Bethlehem; and Richard Bond of Philadelphia.

Seven other members are serving on previous appointments while Walter J. Burke of Pittsburgh, whose nomination was not acted upon Tuesday is serving on an interim appointment.

Named to Shafer's new Science and Engineering Foundation were: James E. Hazeltine of Lancaster; Dr. Paul M. Pitts of Moylan; Dr. Oscar T. Marzke and Dr. William E. Wallace, both of Pittsburgh.

Also Dr. Carl C. Chambers of Philadelphia; Dr. Richard W. Brown of Erie; Dr. Elbert F. Osborn of State College; Dr. Donald J. Blackwelder of Bethlehem, and Dr. George J. Young,

Memorial Day

It's A Day Of Resurrection

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memorial Day is a resurrection. Millions of flowers, placed with loving hands, bloom upon a tidal wave of graves tenanted by gathering millions of ours honored dead—those fallen in war, those fallen in peace. Housewives and warriors, farmers and statesmen, orphans and overlords, girls and grandfathers—all sleep together in the tremendous democracy of death's common pasture. The earth itself is but a vast tomb and the living are but temporary wayfarers upon its surface. But on Memorial Day they walk in spirit again, hand in hand, heart to heart, with those who lie forgotten beneath the headstones. Memory welds anew a vanished unity. The problem of loss and bereavement has stirred the sages of the ages, and these are a few of the thoughts they held: "Grief is crowned with consolation."—Shakespeare. "Thou shalt rest sweetly if thy heart reprehend thee not."—Thomas A. Kempis. "The Lord is high unto them that are of a broken heart."—Old Testament. "How else but through a broken heart may Lord Christ enter in?"—Oscar Wilde. "The soul is not where it lives but where it loves."—Thomas Fuller. "Memory is the treasury of all things and their guardian."—Cicero. "Memory is the one paradise out of which we cannot be driven."—Sacha Guitry.

Chances Dim He'll Survive Crisis Reds May Pick Up Pieces If De Gaulle Doesn't Win

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
PARIS (AP) — A foreigner in Paris gets the feeling he is watching the Fifth Republic die. If it is dying, it is doing so in an outlandish way, but almost everything in France these days seems a bit outlandish, including the way this disaster began from the angry protests of a handful of students in a Paris suburb. The odds seem to be increasing against the political survival of 77-year-old President Charles de Gaulle, who ruled in lofty majesty for the 10 years of the Fifth Republic. If he does not survive this crisis, it could remain to the Communist party to pick up the pieces, though it is considered highly unlikely that the Communists can achieve full power in France. Ironically, if De Gaulle does survive, it could be because of the help of the Communist party. With its command of the most powerful labor organization, the General Confederation of Labor—CGT—the party had been in the position in the past of being able to seriously cripple this country by calling out the key unions. Now, if any group can unparalyze the country it may be the Communist party, if it has the will—and still has the authority—to order those same key unions back to work. There are 1.25 million CGT members, and about 8 million to 10 million persons are on strike, but the important unions could get the country moving again. France seems close to coming to a complete halt, now that gasoline supplies are running low. In the midst of all the turmoil in Paris, the Americans and North Vietnamese carry on what are loosely called peace talks, operating in their own vacuum sealed off from the French storm. Oddly there is a link between France's troubles—which may yet become a contagion in Eu-

Pennsylvania Senate Eyeing Bonus For Vietnam Veterans

HARRISBURG (AP) — A $28 million state bonus to Pennsylvania veterans of the Vietnam War is out of committee and before the entire Senate for consideration. The bonus, which would be financed by a bond issue requiring voter approval, was reported out of the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday. A similar bill was introduced in the House. The legislation would pay Pennsylvania veterans $25 for each month of active service in Vietnam, up to $750. In addition, a $1,000 payment would go to the next of kin of those killed in the war. The Appropriations Committee also reported out a $1 million bill to pay Pennsylvania National Guardsmen called to active duty during the recent civil disorder in Pittsburgh. Some 4,300 guardsmen served in the city, while another 3,500 were activated but remained at their armories. Meanwhile, a package of administration bills was introduced to abolish the Department

SEC Opens Broad Probe Into Stocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has launched a full-scale inquiry into the cost of buying and selling stocks and suggested an interim cut in charges by the New York Stock Exchange by Sept. 15. Although aimed primarily at reducing charges paid by mutual funds which buy and sell thousands of shares of stock at a time, the SEC's drive to reduce costs also could save money for the small buyer. An interim schedule the agency suggested to the New York Stock Exchange would cut costs on purchases of as little as 100 shares. As an option, the NYSE could choose to permit discounts on purchases and sales exceeding $50,000. There was no immediate reaction from NYSE officials and SEC spokesmen said they had no idea which option—if either—the exchange would choose. Under existing law, the SEC could order its interim schedule into effect if the exchange balked. But the exchange could appeal any such order to the federal courts. The SEC scheduled a hearing beginning July 1 on its inquiry of commissions that brokers collect on stock transactions. The NYSE fixes minimum commissions. One purpose of the hearing, the SEC said, will be to decide whether a minimum commission structure is needed. The Justice Department has challenged the system which permits the exchanges to fix minimum charges. Also to be considered is the question of fee-splitting among broker-dealer firms. The SEC opposes fee-splitting and contends any savings in large volume purchases of stocks by mutual funds should be passed on to investors. Some brokers are willing to transact business for a mutual fund for as little as 30 to 40 per cent of the minimum fee, the SEC has said.

Miss Rhonda Pickens Takes Baton Honors

Miss Rhonda Pickens, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pickens of 727 Broadway, Wellsville, received several awards during a National Baton Contest at Kent. She placed first as best appearing majorette in fancy uniform, first as best appearing majorette in military uniform, second in military strutting and fourth in fancy strut. In a recent contest at Ashland, Miss Pickens received first in best appearing majorette in fancy uniform and first in military strut. The Boston Massacre was not a massacre at all, but a street fight between a Boston mob and a squad of British soldiers. The name was invented and used to help stir the anger of crowds.

Rhodes Reviews Aid To Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes and his cabinet reviewed the administration's aid to progress in the Cleveland area and outlined plans to help continued growth in a "report to the people" Wednesday.

"All the state-sponsored and supported programs have the primary objective and will continue this objective of providing more and better jobs in this country," Rhodes said in a prepared address at the Mid Day Club in the Union Commerce Building.

"We believe this has always been the greatest problem and will continue to be the greatest problem and therefore our efforts will be on projects to eliminate joblessness and social ills."

Highlights of the wide-ranging report included:

Job training — interviews with 10,000 East Cleveland residents showed that 83 per cent of those unemployed were age 34 or less with 28 per cent of the males yet to hold a job.

With $29 million to be spent in the year starting July 1 on 16 separate training programs, Rhodes called for creation of an Employers Council "to give this effort effective direction."

Urban Affairs office — the State Department of Urban Affairs is opening a field office headed by Andrew Lee, Cleveland attorney, as regional advisor for the Cleveland area, to coordinate community programs including the model cities effort, with state efforts.

Coordinating Agency — the Federal Budget Bureau has been asked to recognize the new Northwest Ohio Areawide Coordinating Agency, effective July 1, as the unit to conduct a review of federal public works program grant applications for Cleveland and seven area counties.

Council of Governments—the voluntary formation of a Council of Governments, including the Cleveland mayor and 42 other officials, was asked to research and make recommendations in such problem areas as air pollution, traffic engineering, mass transportation and water and sewer improvements.

Housing — the Department of Urban Affairs is preparing legislation for a program to enable private enterprise to supply needed units of low cost housing and encourage commercial development to open thousands of new jobs in Ohio's building industry.

Highways — more than $433 million was spent on highways in the Cleveland area between 1963 and 1967; plans are under way for spending $50 million more to add 95 more miles by 1972, including $40 million for the greater Cleveland area.

Education—giving education a No. 1 priority rating in Cuyahoga County and the state, Rhodes said funds for elementary and secondary education have been increased 80 per cent since 1963 and that $5 million more have been allocated for new programs funded by the state. He said $55 million has been invested in Cleveland State University and Cuyahoga Community College and that November bond issue proposal would provide $10 million to buy more land for university expansion.

Higher Education — Ohio's Little Hoover Commission will begin a complete higher education study June 15 with a report due by Dec. 15 for the Legislature and the Board of Regents.

Pollution Control — the Ohio Water Development Authority will be asked at a June 3 statehouse meeting to give the Cuyahoga River top priority for cleanup action.

Mental Hygiene — a mental health unit will be opened in Cleveland's Hough area, staffed by a psychiatric treatment team and financed at a cost of $62,000 for the first year of operation.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Wax Helps Cleaning Job

DEAR GALS: Here's some great news I received from Carol Hansen, Home Economist with one of the largest wax companies in the country.

You housewives and office workers take heed, because this is information that all of you could use to great advantage.

She says that stubborn stains like crayon and lipstick (as well as the carbin ink and finger smudges from office machines) just seem to melt away from desks and table tops when treated with creamy kitchen wax.

She also wrote that it works well on things like wall paneling, woodwork, laminated plastic counters, cupboards, cabinets, vinyl upholstery, wall tile — almost any hard surface. How about that?

She's right, too. I tried 'em out. Our thanks to our precious Carol for this valuable tip.

You might try it if the need arises and be delightfully surprised.

DEAR HELOISE: Unfortunately I don't have a frost-free refrigerator and carrying that drip tray full of water to the sink to be dumped, bugged me when I was defrosting it.

My husband drilled a small hole in the bottom of the tray (middle of the front side; and put a cork in it.

Now all I have to do is take out the cork and hold a sauce pan under the hole and catch all the water. No more wet floors!

VIRGINIA VOUGHT.

That's a terrific idea if it doesn't leak! And the tray doesn't crack when you drill the hole.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: When sewing, loop a long piece of bias tape through the handles of a pair of embroidery scissors and tie it around your neck, letting the scissors hang about waist level.

Then as you hop from sewing machine to ironing board, there'll be no need to run back and forth hunting scissors that are always WHERE YOU'RE NOT!

I've been sewing for two years with the scissors dangling from my neck and have found it to be real handy for snipping threads and ripping seams.

C.S.

DEAR HELOISE: You have your nylon net and vinegar. I have my "looped" vegetable brushes.

I keep one by the sewing machine. After sewing, all it takes is a few figure eight or circular gyrations and all the threads or ravelings are caught up in the brush neat as you please, dear Heloise.

I have another one in the bathroom for a two-minute clean-up job each morning. Again, a few swirly motions and it picks up all the hair and raises the nap on the rug while leaving it (at the same time) flat on the floor. Once a week vacuuming is all that I find necessary now.

The third brush I use as a handy clothes brush. It's really great.

AVID READER.

And so are you. I love you dearly.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: My mother is a widow and lives alone. As she gets tired of TV dinners and misses good casseroles, I hit upon this idea.

I bought eight inexpensive freezer-to-oven small casserole dishes. Whenever I cook something such as spaghetti, macaroni and cheese, etc., for my family, I make a little extra and freeze it in these small casserole dishes.

When I have all eight filled, it makes a wonderful present for my Mom. No trouble for me and Mom eats well-balanced meals that she won't cook for herself.

MRS. SUE BADER.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know the funnel that comes with your steam iron is great for filling small salt and pepper shakers?

MRS. JOHN DONAHUE.

Meeting Slated By Salineville's New Center Unit

SALINEVILLE — The Planning Board of the Community Center will meet Tuesday night at 4 in the center to advance plans for opening next month.

Some 60 men, women and young people worked at the center Saturday, cleaning, repairing and painting.

Mrs. Anne LeCroy, summer youth program coordinator for the Columbiana County Community Action Agency, expressed appreciation for the volunteer aid.

Ray Manning, chairman of the planning board, appointed committees and assigned duties at a meeting Tuesday.

The center was visited Monday by Mrs. Lorelei Rockwell, analyst from the Chicago Office of Economic Opportunity office, and William Ellis, policy manager from the Washington office.

They were accompanied by Mrs. LeCroy, the Rev. William Ring, county CAA president, and Mrs. Bea Henderson of the East Liverpool center.

Some $18,000 has been approved for the summer programs at Salineville and another center to be established in the county.

Refugees Due Aid

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The United States will fly seven tons of medical supplies for Nigerian war refugees in a government-chartered aircraft arriving within a week, the American embassy announced. An American ship is expected within three weeks with 1,250 tons of powdered milk for distribution by the Catholic Relief Service under Red Cross auspices.

Kiwanis Reviews Club's Standards At Meeting Here

A discussion of achievement of club standards was held by members of the Kiwanis Club during a luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Ronald Mason, president, listed eight subjects about which he invited comments from the members which were tape recorded for forwarding to Kiwanis International at Chicago.

Discussed were fellowship, reception, conduct of meetings, value of meetings, committee participation, activities for the community, impact in community, pride of membership and new members.

The topics were evaluated and some suggestions made on committee work, new projects for the community and reporting of club accomplishments.

Cedric Stanway of Wellsville, Kiwanis lieutenant governor, spoke briefly and commended the club on enrolling 10 new members.

Harold Allison urged members to assist in the horse show scheduled Saturday and Sunday at the Boot and Saddle Club, co-sponsored by the Kiwanians and the saddle club.

Jean Laffite, the legendary privateer and smuggler, was offered $30,000 by the British Royal Navy to help them capture New Orleans during the War of 1812. Instead, he offered aid to Gen. Andrew Jackson and helped successfully defend the port.

Firm Distributes New Directories

R. L. Polk & Co. of Pittsburgh, publisher, has started delivery of the 1968 edition of the East Liverpool City Directory, an 1,177-page hard cover volume that lists the names of all residents over 18 in East Liverpool, Chester, Newell, Glenmoor and Calcutta, along with business houses, manufacturers and other organizations.

The volume, distributed to subscribers only, contains an alphabetical listing of residents with their addresses and occupations, a directory of householders, a numerical telephone guide and classified advertising pages. The alphabetical listing of residents includes wives' names and designates the heads of households.

The householders' guide, in addition to showing locations of streets, lists occupants according to their house numbers, denotes homes which are owner-occupied and lists telephone numbers and zip codes.

The numerical telephone guide is a list of telephone subscribers arranged by numerical progression of numbers.

The new volume will be placed

Mother Gets An Answer

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you can answer a very important question for me. I'm unable to eat or sleep and will go out of my mind if I don't learn the truth soon.

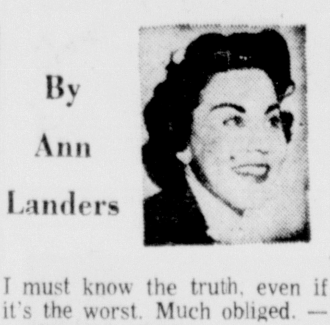

Many years ago, when I was 16, I became pregnant. The father was a young fellow I had been dating. He was four years older than I and marriage was not on his mind.

Someone told us that if I took ergot or quinine all our troubles would be over. I was about six weeks along and I tried both, but nothing happened. So we were married a few weeks later. Surprisingly enough, we have been quite happy and now we have five lovely children.

Last month our eldest son complained of backaches. We sent him to a specialist for X-rays and he received the results today. He was told he has two vertebrae missing. The cartilage is there but not the bone.

The specialist informed him it's a condition the doctors are expecting in the next generation as a result of LSD and other drugs the hippies are taking. He jokingly asked the boy, "What did YOUR mother do, anyway?"

Ann, please tell me if the ergot and quinine I took early in the pregnancy injured this boy.

By Ann Landers

I must know the truth, even if it's the worst. Much obliged. — LOAD ON MIND.

Dear Mind: My medical consultants have assured me that ergot and quinine taken during pregnancy does not produce a deformity in the fetus. So stop worrying. (P.S.: Someone should give that doctor 10 lashes with an old stethoscope. What a stupid thing to have said to the boy!)

Blind Alley

Dear Ann: I'm a woman of 68 and I have a rather touchy question to ask. For more than 40 years I have been friends with a certain lady who lives in the next block. Agatha tells people she's 73 but she's really much closer to 80.

This woman always wore thick glasses, even as a young person. I'm sure her eyesight has failed badly in the last five years. I'm also concerned about her deafness. Agatha wears a hearing aid but misses a lot in spite of it.

She drives her own car and has been very good about asking me if I want a ride to church. Sewing Circle and club meetings. Sometimes we go visiting or to the movies together.

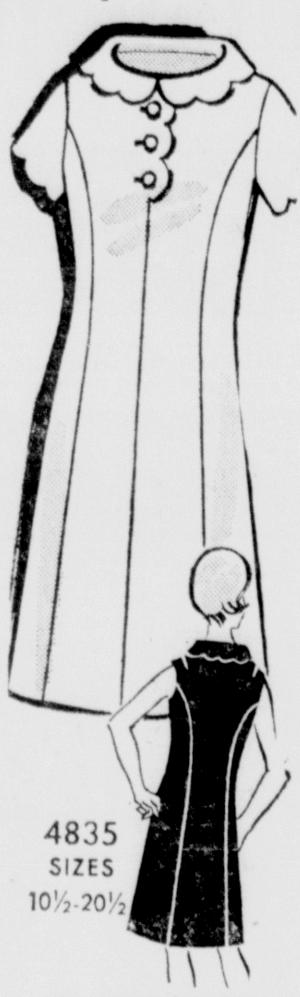

My children have begged me not to ride with Agatha any more. They say she's blind and deaf and it's a miracle we haven't had an accident. Frankly, we've had some close calls but we've never actually hit anything or anybody. I'd like your candid advice. — FOUR-LEAF CLOVER.

Dear Leaf: Don't push your luck. Mother. You've been pretty darned fortunate — so far.

Level with Agatha and urge her to share your taxi. Explain the situation as gently as you can. Better to lose her friendship than your life.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Man Retaken After Escape

A former East Liverpool man, charged with the 1953 rifle slaying of a Jethro woman, was recaptured late this afternoon less than three hours after he reportedly walked away from the Marion Prison Farm.

Richard Elliott, 35, was found guilty by a Columbiana County Common Pleas Jury of the murder of Mrs. Violet Brewer, 34, of 716 Leonard St. May 27, 1953, at her home.

Elliott, a onetime employee of the Louthan Manufacturing Co., told police he purchased a 30-30 game rifle from a downtown store and shot Mrs. Brewer because of a dispute over a car title and the family's refusal to permit him to see their daughter.

Mrs. Brewer was sitting on a bed reading a newspaper to her husband, Orville, when the bullet came through the window and struck her.

Marion officials said Elliott walked away from the prison farm about 4 p.m. He was taken into custody before 7.

Requires New Rules

LONDON (AP) — It took a speeding summons against Conservative leader Edward Heath to get regulations amended.

Heath was caught by a radar speed trap Feb. 25 but his lawyers proved the road was inadequately posted. The charge was dropped and the transport ministry has put up new rules for speed limit repeater signs.

Bell was just 29 years old when he invented the telephone.

Advancing were Ralph Stoker, Michael Clark, Bobby Devore, Matthew Freeland, Anthony Clark, Kevin Phillips, Jeff Deemer, Herman Casto, Ronnie Eastham, Tom Cronin, Charles Ross and Robbie Golden.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Golden, den mother, received a three-year pin.

Skits were given by Den 1, Den 2 and Webelos.

A ceremonial was conducted by Troop 69 of the Boy Scouts for Robbie Golden.

A trip to the Pittsburgh Zoo and on the Gateway Clipper is planned for June 29.

"Pirate Night" was observed when Cub Pack 78 met Tuesday night at the Salvation Army.

Large silver anchors and fish nets with a Jolly Roger decorated the doors. Those entering had to "walk the gangplank" and anyone not dressed as a pirate was fined.

The meeting opened with Crew 1 leading the pledge to the flag with their swords.

After a parade, Kevin Robinson and Tommy Wakefield were selected as the best "pirates." The judges were Capt. Richard Bosh and Robert Corbett.

Ralph Mays, Larry Rudibagh, Tommy Smith and Bill Corbett were welcomed into the pack during a candlelight ceremony.

Stripes also were presented Bill Corbett in Webelos exercises.

Robert Duke, cubmaster, made the following awards: Tom Wakefield, gold and silver arrow; Terry Rudibagh, gold and silver arrow; Bryce Linkenfelter, artist; John and Don Humphreys, sports; Mike and Danny Dukes, gold arrows, and Kevin Robinson, artist.

Bill Corbett, who found the most gold coins, won a treasure hunt.

The hall was decorated with green lights, pictures of pirate ships and Jolly Rogers.

The table was decorated with candles, a treasure chest of jewels, a large seashell and pirate mugs.

Capt. Bosh led singing, Den 5 conducted the closing exercises and the Webelos served refreshments. Forty-five attended.

The next pack meeting will be June 24.

Brownie Troop 492 held its fly-up ceremony Monday at 4 p.m. at the First United Presbyterian Church in Chester, with parents as guests.

The meeting was opened with the flag ceremony presented by the second-graders, Diana Lowers, Janet Logston, Connie Williams, Lisa Brown and Abby West.

Janet Ryan, second-grader, was invested into the troop and given her Brownie pin by Mrs. Nelson Campbell, leader.

"Crossing the Bridge" ceremony was used for the fly-up, which was conducted by the leaders, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Edwin Wine.

Receiving wings were Sally Bailey, Kathy Barnhart, Dianna

Bell, Evelyn Cline, Karen Dickey, Trudy Gorby, Vicki Hought, Donna Hillyard, Joy Hobbs, Mary Ann LaScola, Deborah Matthews, Bretchen McHenry, Annette Morgan, Judy Ossman, Melanie Parsons, Pam Shaw, Jeanene Wine, Susan Wright and Toni Yanko.

The fly-ups repeated the Girl Scout promise, led by Judy Wilcox and Kim Males of Junior Troop 495, and then gave the Girl Scout Laws.

Cookie sales awards were presented Diana Lowers, Sally Bailey and Judy Ossman. The program closed with the singing of Brownie songs.

Refreshments were served 60 by Mrs. Harold Ossman, troop committee chairman.

The troop will hold its final meeting of the season with a picnic next Monday at the football field on 6th St. The group plans a bus trip to Pittsburgh June 19.

8 More To Join In Conservation

LISBON — The Columbiana Soil and Water Conservation District board of supervisors accepted eight cooperators at the monthly meeting Tuesday in the Gallo Building.

They asked for conservation assistance on a total of 751 acres. The new cooperators follow, with addresses, acreage and township where located:

Clarence Crosser, Hanover, 120, Hanover; Donald Miller, East Liverpool RD 3, 56, St. Clair; Randall Ridgeway, Lisbon RD 4, 136, Center; Clark Hager, Ohio Ave., East Liverpool, 13, Elkrun; George Schorsten, Louisville, 66, Elkrun; James Skeels, Lisbon RD 4, 100, Center; Galen Walter, Leetonia RD 1, 104, Salem, and James A. Shultz, East Rochester RD 1, 156, Hanover.

Board members will attend a Sub Area 3 meeting June 20 at Scio. The program will include a tour of the Scio Pottery.

Plans were completed for a public dinner Friday noon at the Salem Golf Club on Route 45, south of Salem, to introduce the recently-completed soil survey of Columbiana County, in preparation since 1942. Approximately 100 are expected to attend.

Personalities In The News

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has advised that he will not be able to serve as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Truman, who turned 84 earlier this month, told Democratic State Chairman Delton L. Houtchens Tuesday:

"I would, of course, want to help in every way I can, but it would be taxing for me to travel and I, therefore, could not serve as a delegate."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilbur Cohen, secretary of health, education and welfare, slipped in the bathtub at a hotel and received a bump on the head.

"Before it was all over there were five doctors there to check me, including a neurologist and two past presidents of the California Medical Association," he said.

Cohen was preparing for his dinner appearance at the National Conference on Social Welfare when the accident occurred. He spoke as scheduled.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Dana Andrews has been sued for divorce by his wife of 29 years, Mary Todd Andrews, who alleged "great mental and physical suffering."

Mrs. Andrews, 51, said Tuesday they were separated last May 7 and the 58-year-old screen star is now living in nearby Studio City. She lives in suburban Santa Monica. They have three children.

East Liverpool's Bernie Allen has upped his average to .357, best of anyone in the American League with at least 10 at-bats, but he continues to ride the bench.

Frank Coggins, who is playing second base for the Senators, is hitting .196 and fielding only .950, next-to-worst among regulars in the league.

EVERYONE IS amazed at Roberto Clemente's low average this season, but no one has made much of the fact that Mickey Mantle is hitting a mere .206, about 20 points worse than Clemente.

STEVE HARGAN of the Indians is one of several major-leaguers who use butazolidin regularly to enable them to play without pain. Butazolidin is of course the drug that disqualified Dancers Image in the Kentucky Derby.

THE INDIANS pitching was so good recently that a month went by without a starter being knocked out (as opposed to being lifted for a pinch-hitter).

AFTER STARTING off 21 for 26 in the stolen base department, the Indians managed a meager 4 of 19 mark over 25 games.

PIRATE FIELDING averages show few surprises. Bill Mazeroski is leading the league's second basemen, Gene Alley is second to Hal Lanier at short and Willie Stargell is fielding .897 in the outfield, worst of all regulars. Matty Alou was among 14 errorless outfielders.

PHIL LINZ of the Mets came out of retirement to make the team, but he needn't have bothered. He was still looking for his first hit of the year after 24 times up. Linz doesn't have to worry, however, as he is part owner of "Mr. Laffs," one of the most popular pubs in New York.

ARIZONA STATE, defending NCAA baseball champion, was eliminated in the Western Athletic Conference race, and won't get to defend its title.

JOHN LUDOVICI, of Chester, who played tackle for Oak Glen last season, will attend Kent State on a partial football scholarship this fall.

BOB HENDERSON, basketball coach at Canton Lehman, has been named assistant principal at the school and will give up coaching duties. The Polar Bears were 15-4 last season as Henderson compiled a 46-34 record in four years. Henderson is a graduate of Irondale High and is the son of C. P. Henderson, superintendent at Stanton High. Don Eddins is the new Lehman coach.

Pirates Engage Mets In Double Dip Today

PITTSBURGH — It might have been raining everywhere else, but lately the sun's been shining in Larry Shepard's world.

The Pirate manager can't seem to shut off his enthusiasm since the club rebounded with three straight wins after a five-game slump that put it in last place.

"We have been having some good days," Shepard said Tuesday. "It's easy to see why. Stargell is hitting, Clemente is coming out of it, and don't forget Mazeroski. He is hitting the ball well."

The revitalized club was rained out of its game with the Mets Tuesday night at Forbes Field. But it'll meet them today for a doubleheader.

Nine days ago, Shepard was forced to bench Willie Stargell in New York because of the Bucs' all-around inability. That was nine days ago. Now Shepard says it won't happen again.

"Willie will have to have a broken leg to be out of the lineup," Shepard said.

Stargell's bones are in place and his batting average is beginning to shape up. He's batting .220 and hopes to do some damage when he swings today against Dick Selma, Jerry Koosman or Nolan Ryan.

Jim Bunning was to have tried to pitch his way out of a slump Tuesday night and things might brighten up, too, for the 36-year-old pitcher. Today Bunning will try to become a .500 hitter. He's currently 3-4.

Bunning has failed to complete his last seven starts. His lone complete game was on April 14 when he shut out the Dodgers. Then he had some trouble losses and some injuries and then just plain poor pitching.

First it was a groin injury, then a twisted ankle and then some loud bat noises by the Reds and the Cubs.

Shepard thinks the forced one-week layoff will help Bunning. He hasn't been throwing his normal way," Shepard said. "I don't know if it is the groin or the ankle, but he hasn't been throwing like he can."

The Bucs may be ready to go for the first time in a while. If there's no rain today, things look pretty bright for the Bucs.

They'll look even brighter if Bunning can pitch a Bunning-type game.

Leonard Has Pole Position

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Jones conked out because of a $6 bearing failure 7½ miles from easy victory, may really reverberate.

The experts predicted a one-two-three turbine triumph, with debonair Hill, former world road racing champion from London, established as a 5-1 favorite to take first money of more than $170,000.

The American Auto Race Writers and Broadcasters Association, at its annual meeting, tabbed Leonard and Pollard to wind up second and third.

Last year's winner, A. J. Foyt Jr., seeking a record fourth Indy victory, and Mario Andretti were co-choices for sixth place, with the Unser brothers, Bobby and Al, co-choices for fourth place.

Rain which washed out scheduled carburetion tests Tuesday may have bolstered the grim hopes of the convention engine rivals of the turbocar trio.

The turbines reportedly were in need of a further testing of new metal suspension parts just recently installed.

Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., spun the fastest time of the piston contenders in the rain-harassed, mishap-marred trials with a 10-mile qualifying average of 169.507 m.p.h.

That gained him the outside position in the first starting row, looking across at pole pilot Leonard, who qualified with a record 171.559 m.p.h. and 1966 Indy champion Hill, who posted 171.208.

Then the death knell of the piston engine Indy racer, a muffled warning last year when the lone turbocar driven by Parnelli

Baseball Expansion Drafts Poor In Past

NEW YORK (AP) — When the new major league baseball teams go into the expansion draft next October, they will look carefully at the history of the Washington Senators, California Angels, Houston Astros and New York Mets.

Of the 101 players selected when the majors held stocking drafts in December, 1960, and October, 1961, only a baker's dozen remain. The cost was more than $8 million, then a staggering sum.

Jim Fregosi still is the Angels' shortstop and Bob Rodgers is their No. 1 catcher. Al Jackson is an occasional starting pitcher for the Mets after returning from St. Louis.

Gil Hodges, another original draftee as a first baseman, long since shed the mitt and became a manager. After five years in Washington he now is manager of the Mets. Bob Aspromonte, Astros' third baseman, is the only other player still with the same club that drafted him. No Senators remain.

When the Angels and Senators selected in 1960, each took 28 players at $75,000 apiece. That came to $2.1 million each plus a little additional change for extras. When the Mets and Astros picked in 1961, New York took 22 for $1.8 million and Houston 23 for $1,850,000. The price for the athletes ranged from $125,000 each for four super specialists to $75,000 and $50,000.

Incidentally, only three of the $125,000 boys still are around—Dick Farrell, picked by Houston but now a Philadelphia relief pitcher; Al Spangler, an outfielder drafted by Houston now with the Chicago Cubs after a stay with the Angels; and Bob Miller, picked by the Mets but now with the Minnesota Twins.

The other $125,000 specialists were Jay Hook, pitcher; Don Zimmer, infielder, and Lee Walls, outfielder, by the Mets; and Joe Amalfitano, infielder, and Hal Smith, catcher by Houston.

The big prize of the earlier expansion draft was Dean Chance, selected by the Angels but later traded to Minnesota. The right-handed pitcher turned out to be a 20-game winner in 1964 and is 4-5 this year.

Bob Johnson, a utility infielder, and Chuck Hinton, another handyman who plays both infield and outfield positions, have survived. Both were picked by Washington but now are with other teams. Johnson is with Cincinnati and Hinton with the Angels.

Schultz' Double Shutout Gives Shaw State Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Southpaw Buddy Schultz hurled his second straight shutout of the day Wednesday and struck out 14 batters leading East Cleveland Shaw to the Class AA high school baseball championship with a 1-0 victory over Toledo Rogers.

The winning Cardinals, who registered their first title since 1944, pushed across the game's only run in the bottom of the sixth when shortstop Tim O'Neil singled and outfielder John Wittenmyer lined a double to right center scoring O'Neil.

Schultz earlier posted a 6-0 whitewash job over Columbus Marion-Franklin striking out 13 and pitching a three-hitter while Rogers reached the finale when Rudy Hartkopf twirled a two-hitter in a 6-0 semifinal decision over Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Schultz was in trouble only once when he walked two batters in the third inning. He gave up singles in the fourth and sixth frames.

The Cardinals' ace at one stretch whiffed 10 of 11 men.

The championship tiff was played in bright sunshine at Ohio University after steady rains earlier in the day almost forced postponement of the games for the fourth time.

Shaw finished with an 18-5 record while Toledo bowed out with a 17-3 mark. Weldon Hollar who pitched a strong four hitter was the tough-luck loser for the Rams.

Southpaw Rudy Hartkopf twirled a near two-hitter leading Toledo into the championship tiff as his mates pounded out 13 hits, three by 5-foot-4 Rod Allen.

The Rams scored a pair of runs in the second, fourth and fifth innings while Hartkopf was retiring 13 batters in a row in one stretch.

Rogers now has a 17-5 record while Bacon bowed out with a 20-3 mark.

Lefty Buddy Schultz limited times by inclement weather, were played in light rain.

Shaw also has a 17-5 mark while Franklin closed out with a 12-10 log.

Iron Ruler Favored In Jersey Derby Race

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHERRY HILL, N. J. (AP) — Peter Kissel hopes his 3-year-old colt Iron Ruler is thinking Old Over even if it is May.

Iron Ruler was born in October, won his first stake race in October. He runs under the colors of Kissel's October House Farm, the name of Kissel's family home at Peapack, N.J.

If you want to carry the October story just a little further, Kissel was married in October, and moved into his home at Pottersville, N.J., in the month Halloween made famous.

But this is May, and Iron Ruler will need more than a calendar to beat 10 rivals in the $100,000 added Jersey Derby at Garden State Park today. The Kissel horse is a 9-5 favorite in the 1 1/2 mile event for 3-year-olds, each carrying 126 pounds.

Chief contention to the favorite is expected from King Rach's Out of the Way, runner-up in the Preakness; No-double, third in the Preakness;

Ohio State Football Ticket Prices Up

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football fans can expect to see a better brand of football this season—but tickets will be harder to find and will cost more too.

Ticket Director George R. Staten told a press-radio-TV luncheon Wednesday "we anticipate a great early sale and expect tremendous attendance."

That generally isn't regarded as startling news in these parts when you consider the Buckeyes have led the nation's college football total attendance in 21 of the last 24 years and average attendance in 17 of the last 18 seasons.

But last year the average of 76,700 for five home games was a bit lower than Ohio State officials had anticipated. They blamed a less than attractive schedule and a poor start for the slight decline.

Come Sept. 28 Coach Woody Hayes' gridders open their season against Southern Methodist in the first of four straight games, the first time that's happened since Ohio Stadium opened its gates in 1922.

After SMU comes Oregon, Purdue and Northwestern before the Bucks hit the road. There also are home contests against Michigan State on Nov. 2 and the home finale against arch foe Michigan, Nov. 23.

"It is certainly a fine schedule," Staten said. "We are hopeful of getting capacity crowds for all six games and right now the only ones in doubt are the first two against SMU and Oregon."

Staten is optimistic that total book sales will hit at least 67,000, up 5,000 from a year ago. But Buckeye rooters who like the better seats will have to shell out a buck more for reserved and box accommodations.

The OSU Board of Trustees approved last winter a boost in reserve seats from $5 to $6 and a hike in box seats from $6 to $7. Field seat prices of $3 remain unchanged.

Ohio Stadium's seating capacity will go up by 346 seats, Staten reported, in a bid to give more people a chance to see the Bucks. Total seating capacity this fall will reach 81,455.

All home games start at 1:30 p.m. except homecoming on Oct. 19 against Northwestern. A regional telecast of that game won't begin until 2:30 p.m. EDT because the network will be televising the start of the Olympic games.

Staten said ticket applications will start going out in the mail May 31 and the season ticket book capacity is expected to be reached by June 30.

The Buckeyes, bolstered by an outstanding freshman crop, are rated early co-favorites with Purdue for the Big Ten title.

Top Doubles Match Set Midland Will Dedicate Tennis Courts Saturday

Midland's new $30,000 tennis courts will be dedicated Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

The lighted courts, rated among the best in the tri-state area, are part of the borough recreation program.

Various officials will attend Saturday's exercises, including Glenn Caughey, vice president of the Western Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Association, representing the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Caughey, co-owner of the Bob-Glenn Indoor Tennis Club at Boardman, Ohio, and the only registered USLTA tennis umpire in the Beaver Valley area, will present a doubles match featuring four top-ranked players from Western Pennsylvania and Ohio.

The players are George Hromaniuk of Baden, No. 4 seeded singles player in Western Pennsylvania; Caughey, of Beaver Falls; Western Pennsylvania seniors doubles champion; Bob Thompson, Youngstown University tennis coach, and John Kile, No. 1 player for Youngstown.

The tennis program was arranged by Ray Presutti, Midland Borough recreation chairman, and the Beaver County Recreation Department.

Paris Tennis On Despite City Tie-Up

PARIS (AP) — More first-round matches were on tap today in the strike-plagued Paris Open Tennis Championships.

Air and train traffic into the city was at a standstill because of the nationwide work stoppage.

Even those able to reach Paris found it difficult to get to the Roland Garros courts because there was no gasoline.

Most of the favored professionals were on hand, including Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall. But Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles hadn't shown up Tuesday and a number of first-round matches had to be postponed.

Among those who did see action were Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., Julie Heldman of New York and Allen Fox of Hollywood, Calif.

Miss Richey, the top American woman amateur, routed Christina Borda Diaz, a 16-year-old Brazilian, 6-0, 6-2. Miss Heldman defeated Patricia Montano of Mexico 6-2, 6-0.

Fox, ranked eighth in the United States, breezed past Alfredo Acuna of Peru 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

Kentucky's northern boundary is on the northern shore of the Ohio River rather than at its center, as is the case in most instances when a river marks the boundary between two states.

Sports Quiz

Here is a sports quiz to test the knowledge of area sports fans.

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

A "new" entrant won the quiz this week. Jack Vodrey of Park Blvd. got eight questions right. He got two of the three non-pitchers who have pitched in the majors, Rocky Colavito, when he was with the Indians, and Bert Campaneris of the A's (who played nine different positions in nine innings). He missed Matty Alou, who pitched when he was with the Giants. Vodrey named three college All-Americans now in the big leagues, Rick Monday, Reggie Jackson and Rick Reichardt. The others who made it in the last six years are Don Kessinger, Ken Suarez, Bill Bethea, Jeff Torborg and Ernie Fazio.

Vodrey named four of the five national soccer champions, Michigan St., St. Louis U., West Chester St., San Francisco U. and Navy; had St. Louis U. as the perennial quarter-finalist; named six of the eight college world series teams of last year, which were Stanford, Arizona State, Houston, Ohio State, Auburn, Rider, Oklahoma State, and Boston College; had Southern Cal as the defending NCAA track and field champion; tabbed Gerry Lindgren of Washington St. and Randy Matson of Texas A&M as the double winners in the 1967 NCAA meet; and correctly identified the three books, "Rhubarb" is the story of the cat that owned a team, "Can't Nobody Here Play This Game" is the story of the Mets and Zane Grey wrote "The Red-headed Outfield."

This week's questions:

1. Who is the last Brooklyn Dodger to play for the L.A. Dodgers?
2. Name a former New York Giant still active in the major leagues beside Willie Mays?
3. Who was the last of the St. Louis Browns to play in the major leagues?
4. What racing stable has silks of "Devil's Red"?
5. From what city are demolition derbies usually seen on TV?
6. What was the name of the Montreal baseball team when it was in the International League?
7. What present Pirate star once played there?
8. What professional team is known as the Argonauts?
9. What was Sulpher Dell?
10. What European team represented Cleveland in the United Soccer League last season?

Ohio U. Wins Reese Trophy For MAC Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University was announced Wednesday as the winner of the Reese Trophy for compiling the best combined record in the Mid-American Conference's nine-sports program.

The Bobcats edged last year's winner, Miami, 46 1/2-42 1/2. Western Michigan was third with 40 1/2 followed by Toledo with 34, Bowling Green 33, Kent State 32 1/2 and Marshall 22.

Miami, Reese Trophy winner for the past two years, took more first places than any other school with titles in cross country, swimming and wrestling.

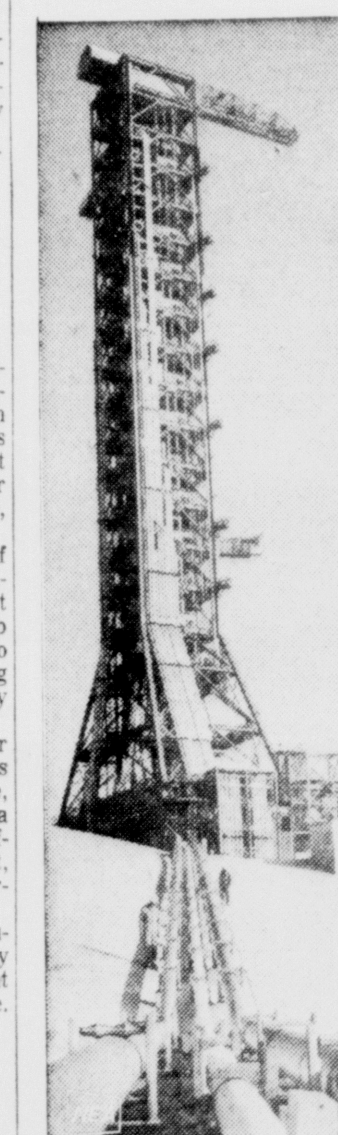

But Ohio came on strong in baseball, track, tennis and golf in spring sports to take the all-sports championship for the sixth time.

The award is named after Dr. David E. Reese, the league's first commissioner.

Project Approved

BEAVER FALLS — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved the conversion of the Broadhead Hotel into a 98-room low-rent housing project for the elderly. A financial assistance contract for the purchase of the hotel has been approved. Michael Baker Jr. of Rochester is the developer.

The people of North America and northwestern Europe have the longest life expectancy span in the world, averaging slightly more than 70 years of age, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

PIPELINES at Cape Kennedy deliver nitrogen gas to launch pad from which astronauts will depart for the moon. Gas is used to clean fuel lines on the launch tower and the rocket when it is in position.

QUESTION: How can you make heads from numbers?

ANSWER: For all those of us who have trouble getting numbers out of our heads, here's a switch. This correspondent wants to know how to get heads from numbers. One of our artists knows all about it. She had once given chalk talks to entertain audiences and this was one of the stunts she used. She would ask some one to give her a number and then draw it in a large size on the black board or demonstration paper. It would suggest some part of a face or perhaps some kind of expression. The audience would be amazed to see how fast she could whip out an amusing character from the lifeless-looking number. She had, she said, memorized a number of different heads for each number and she has drawn one group she used to use in our illustration. Why not practice this group of characters, get some of your friends together, ask for number, and see if you can startle them? It's a good idea to practice up a bit before you try the trick out on an actual audience.

Hattie P. Groom of Baltimore, Md., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review, is selected for a prize.

Six persons on the bridge were trampled to death. In 1942, during World War II, more than 1,100 British bombers attacked Cologne, Germany. In 1961, the Dominican dictator, Rafael Trujillo, was assassinated. Ten years ago—Two unknown American servicemen—one from World War II and one from the Korean War — were taken to their final resting place in Arlington National Cemetery. Five years ago — The death toll was officially estimated at 10,000 in a windstorm which hit East Pakistan. One year ago — The government of Nigeria mobilized its army after the military leader of the nation's eastern region declared an independent new state, Biafra.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, May 30, the 151st day of 1968. There are 214 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1431, Joan of Arc was burned at the stake in Rouen, France.
In 1498, Christopher Columbus sailed on his third voyage to the New World. In 1539, the Spanish explorer, Hernando De Soto, landed in Florida. In 1868-100 years ago — the first formal observance of Memorial Day took place. In 1893, a report that the six-day-old Brooklyn Bridge was about to collapse caused panic.
